Friday 14 January 2022

It has been another exciting week this week with the Key Stage Two and Early Years classes having already had their 'hook days.' This has involved investigating who broke a chair and left a mess behind in the three bear's house inside Pre-school and Reception classrooms (Goldilocks is the prime suspect), tasting various types of chocolate, not all of which were pleasant, as well as learning about mummification using toilet roll and a willing volunteer! Years 1 & 2 have their 'hook day' to look forward to next week!

A reminder to parents of Pre-school pupils starting school in September—the deadline for applications is tomorrow (Saturday).

As the weather is so cold and often icy at the moment, please could parents ensure that children come to school with a warm coat and appropriate footwear in keeping with our school uniform policy. Thank you!

You may have noticed that following a few members of staff reporting it to the council, the yellow zig-zag lines and 'school keep clear' sign have been re-painted this week. Please could everyone use this as a reminder not to park on this area of Meadoway at any time. Also, we have been asked to add that some parents are again leaving their cars running while they are waiting outside the school. This is not environmentally friendly and the exhaust fumes are extremely unpleasant for other parents to have to breathe in when they walk past. Please turn your car engines off while you are waiting to collect your child.
