Religious Education Progression

This document aims to track expectations for Religious Education at Steeple Claydon School.

What the National Curriculum says:

KS1 & 2:

Religion and beliefs inform our values and are reflected in what we say and how we behave. RE is an important subject in itself, developing an individual's knowledge and understanding of the religions and beliefs which form part of contemporary society. Religious education provokes challenging questions about the ultimate meaning and purpose of life, beliefs about God, the self and the nature of reality, issues of right and wrong, and what it means to be human. It can develop pupils' knowledge and understanding of Christianity, of other principal religions, other religious traditions and worldviews that offer answers to questions such as these. RE also contributes to pupils' personal development and wellbeing and to community cohesion by promoting mutual respect and tolerance in a diverse society. RE can also make important contributions to other parts of the school curriculum such as citizenship, personal, social, health and economic education (PSHE education), the humanities, education for sustainable development and others. It offers opportunities for personal reflection and spiritual development, deepening the understanding of the significance of religion in the lives of others – individually, communally and cross-culturally.

RE has an important part to play as part of a broad, balanced and coherent curriculum to which all pupils are entitled. High quality learning experiences in RE are designed and provided by careful planning through locally agreed syllabuses and in schools, considering the need to offer breadth of content, depth of learning and coherence between concepts, skills and content.

Early Years:

- Introduce children to a range of cultures and religions Recognise similarities in relations to places, objects, materials and living things. ☑ Tell stories, listen to music, dance.
- Eat foods from a range of cultures.
- Use resources in role play that reflect a variety of cultures ☑ These resources could be clothes, symbols, candles and toys.

At Steeple Claydon School we follow the Understanding Christianity and the Diocese of Oxford work units to ensure we have a full and rich coverage of all religions as set down by the Diocese of Oxford.
